INTRODUCTION & COMPANY PROFILE

We are eZoom Information, a system integration company in MIC Group. We are experts in business consulting, technology & information system integration as well as enterprise managed operation.
We have dedicated over 12 years in telecommunication industry and thus have accumulated rich know-how and experiences in telecommunication value-added services and billing/operation supporting systems. In addition, we also engage in public and government sector to organize, orchestrate and manage mass events and exhibitions by leveraging cutting-edge technologies.

SUMMARY

The Java developer reports to project manager and involves in Java - related system integration projects. The candidates must have rich experiences in Java programming and project delivery. System analysis and design skills/experience is not mandatory but is a plus for qualification. In addition, the candidate should be a good communicator and team member.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- o Involved in analysis, design, coding, SIT, UAT and support
- o Self-initiative to learn and explore
- o Participation in user's functional requirement studies
- o Completed project on time based on the project planning
- o Ensuring quality of work through QA and code review process

REQUIREMENTS

- o Proactive thinking and good listener/communicator
- o Possess Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science/Information Technology or equivalent
- o Strong programming knowledge in any of these related fields: Java, J2EE, Spring, Struts, AJAX, Hibernate, Web Services and other latest technologies is desirable
- o Hands-on experience in software development
- o Familiar with database knowledge; Oracle is preferred